Interim Director
Dr. Martino Harmon

Dr. Martino Harmon, interim director for Student Health, has been a great asset in our time of transition. Dr. Harmon is the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs here at Iowa State University where he oversees enrollment services, admissions, student financial aid and learning communities. Dr. Harmon previously worked as the executive director of student success and retention at Cincinnati State Technical and Community College in Ohio.

"Dr. Harmon has devoted countless hours to the TRACC team and clinical leadership," said Dr. Scallon, interim associate director for clinical services. "We really value and appreciate that time." Dr. Harmon's goal at Iowa State University is to provide transformational leadership in helping students and staff achieve their goals, and that is just what he has done here at Student Health.

"Martino has provided strong leadership during our time of transition," said Lauri Dusselier, manager of Prevention Services. "We really appreciate his help and support in moving forward."

Dr. Harmon has been instrumental to Student Health as we have been planning for our future.

Communication Specialist

Dr. Harmon has helped lead Student Health in an upward direction by taking advantage of the feedback received from Keeling and Associates. He has helped Student Health in our search for a new interim director, increasing access and productivity of providers, and developing a quality improvement plan, including the recent posting of the quality improvement officer.

"Dr. Harmon has been instrumental to Student Health as we have been planning for our future," said Samantha Boyd, communication specialist and interim HR liaison. "He has worked diligently to guide our team and has been an invaluable link to the VPSA office. We would not be making the progress that we are without him."
